BACK UP VISION TO WIN SUCCESS

Quaker Evangelist Says Too Many of Us Won't Expend Efforts.

"Vision is the keynote to success," said Mrs. Daisy Douglas Barr in her sermon, "The Light That Failed," at the First Methodist church Wednesday night. "Everything depends on the vision but more than that there must be something backing it up."

"A great many of us are too lazy to expend the effort necessary to carry out the vision and as a result our endeavors along any line are useless. We do not seem able to see beyond the moment, the hour, the day. Commercially and spiritually we live only for the now. We fail to have the vision which tides us over into the future."

"God is the creator of everything and what we mortals accomplish on the earth is merely a discovery. What God created he left for us to finish out, to develop. We do not really create new music; there is not creation in it other than the original creation by God, but we discover new things about it in our study of it."

Must Utilize Our Gifts.
"If we do not make use of the God-given gifts which are ours they will go out of commission. Wheat, if not cultivated, will return to wild rice. The eyes of the fish in the Manasseth cave, because of their misuse, become nothing more than scars. They fail in their function."

"Life gives whatever one looks for in it. If you have the vision to do something and something big, and back up the vision with practicality, you cannot perish."

Wednesday night was Boosters' night and the children of the various Sunday schools throughout the city, who have been under the training of E. J. Balmford for the past two weeks, gave a splendid program. The Kreage store sent a splendid delegation to the services last night. On Thursday night, Mrs. Barr will give her famous "Salvation by Families" lecture. Families throughout the city are urged to come in their various groups. A prize will be given for the biggest family present. On Friday night, Mrs. Barr will address the business girls of the city who are to be the guests of the ladies of the Methodist church at a 6 o'clock supper in the church parlors. Mrs. Barr will speak again on "Why Girls Go Wrong."

SWARTZ AND CAUFFMANN TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Funeral services for Beryl Swartz and Louis Cauffmann, the two high school boys that were killed Tuesday night at Buchanan, Mich., when a Michigan Central train struck the automobile in which they were riding, will be held from their residences in Portage Prairie Friday afternoon at 1:15, and also from the Portage Prairie Evangelical church at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the Evangelical cemetery. The two boys were cousins.

RETURNS FROM VISIT.
L. G. Bugbee, 1128 Haney av., has returned home after a three days' visit with his parents in Fulton, Ill. The golden anniversary of his parents was celebrated while he was there and $50 in gold were presented the couple by their children. During the past 50 years, among the six children and several grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Bugbee, there have been but three deaths.

OUTHOUSE MEASURE BALKED IN COUNCIL

In the ordinance, was the first to bring up the question of expense in connection with the ordinance. Mr. Wolter, if the ordinance is finally passed, will have considerable expense making sewer connections on his property, which is now furnished with outhouses.

Would Until After War.
"We are facing war conditions now," he said, "and plumbing material is costing a great deal more than it used to. I believe that by waiting until after the war, we can save money."

Councilman Goebel then took the floor and pointed out the expense of the proposition. He too, favored a delay until conditions should be more settled. Councilman Seifert, following Goebel, took a stand in behalf of the ordinance.

"We've been talking this matter over for about three years," he said, "and haven't come any nearer to it than we are now. If we are going to wait and let the ordinance drop now, it will never be passed. This matter should be passed right away as a protection to the public health."

Mayor Pleads for Ordinance.
Mayor Keller then spoke to the council. He reviewed the past work of the council, pointing out the many ordinances passed under his administration which made for the benefit of the public. "The building code ordinance was opposed for the same reason that this is being opposed," declared Mayor Keller. "Interested parties said it would cost too much. But everyone will agree that the ordinance has been of great benefit. So with the measure now before you, the public health must be protected, even if it costs money."

Councilman Wolter mentioned the high cost of plumbing and material, to which the mayor replied, "Yes, plumbing comes high. But doctors come high, and idleness from illness comes high, and life itself comes high."

The mayor read a letter from Lawrence Vellier, secretary and director of the National Housing association, in which the writer recommended immediate passage of the ordinance, explaining how necessary the step was for the protection of the public. "Mr. Vellier," said Mayor Keller, "is an authority on housing conditions."

Discusses Fox Survey.
The recent survey of the city by Dr. Carroll Fox was discussed by the mayor. "You have passed ordinances complying with all the recommendations made in his report," the mayor told the council, "with the single exception of the eradication of outhouses, and here's the opportunity to do that also."

Following Mayor Keller's arguments favoring the immediate passage of the ordinance, Councilman Thompson spoke to the committee. "Prices for plumbing are high now, it is true," he admitted, "but it is also true that labor prices are high. For that reason the laboring man is as able now to pay for the work as he will be later, because when prices begin to go down, labor will be the first to drop."

Plenty of Time to Pay.
Councilman Seifert then followed with the argument that the ordinance provides that the sewer connections in the outlying portions of the city will not have to be made until nearly four years. During that time the poor classes, who live in those portions, will have time to get ready for the improvement, he declared.

Finally the vote was taken, with the result that the favorable report motion was lost. The motion to lay the matter over for two weeks was then made, and carried. The council requests all those who have anything to say in regard to the passage or rejection of the ordinance to be present at the next committee meeting, which will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, in the council chambers at the city hall.

Vote $10,000 in Bonds.
At the special meeting which preceded the committee session, ordinances providing for a new issue of $10,000 worth of bonds, to take the place of a similar issue provided for several weeks ago, and approved $14,000 for election expenses and $8,000 to the board of works were passed.

The first provision for bonds allowed an interest rate of 4 per cent, but since the issue did not sell, it was withdrawn, and the new provision allows 4½ per cent interest.

Whether Johnson st. shall be rechristened Arlington av. will be settled at the next committee session, at which time interested parties are asked to be at the meeting to state their views.

An ordinance providing that the New York Central lines install and maintain a light at the intersection of the tracks with Vernon st. was approved by the committee and recommended for passage to the council.

BOSENBURY SAYS SAME OLD ARGUMENT

"The same argument, as to cost, was advanced by the council three years ago when the question of out-houses was brought up," declared Dr. Charles Bosenburg, secretary of the city board of health, when informed of the action of the council last night.

"At the present rate it will take South Bend at least 75 years to rid itself of insanitary privies," he went on. "There's absolutely nothing to this argument about exorbitant costs. The first zone includes only property which is owned by people well able to install the necessary connections, and the outlying districts, which include the poorer people, will not have to install the connections for more than three years, and they will have all that time to save up for it."

"I feel that the ordinance ought to pass. I've done what I could during the past four years to get just such an ordinance through, and now it's up to the council. The present plan is far from being sufficient to rid the city of the menace to its health."

"The number of out-houses in South Bend is a shame and a stain. Fort Wayne got rid of 3,000, and there weren't any exorbitant charges. Competition and the amount of the work to be done kept the prices within reason. That same thing will be true here."

"You can say for me," concluded Dr. Bosenburg, "that there's absolutely nothing to the expense argument when one considers public health."

CLEMENT STUDEBAKER ON WAR WORK BODY

Clement Studebaker of this city has been appointed a member of the state executive board of the Indiana division of the national war work council by Frederic M. Ayres of Indianapolis, who is chairman of the Indiana branch. The council is just starting a campaign in this state to raise $1,000,000 as Indiana's share of the $5,000,000 to be raised in the United States for the enlisted men of the army and navy.

The board is made up of the chairman and 16 deputies, who have been selected by Mr. Ayres from the various cities throughout the state. The money to be raised is for the benefit of the boys in the trenches and camps and on the war vessels.

Notre Dame News

An unusually interesting session of the Notre Dame chamber of commerce was held Wednesday afternoon in the administration building. A detailed report of the Shanghai, China, chamber of commerce was read by Armand O'Brien of Laporte. A lengthy discussion on the report was given by Louis du Roche, a student from Hong Kong.

A paper was delivered by James Foran of Fond du Lac, Wis., the purchasing agent of a wholesale produce concern. Mr. Foran told of his experiences and told about the responsibilities and activities in such a concern. The Rev. John O'Hara, C. S. C., dean of the foreign trade commerce department, also in charge of the Notre Dame chamber of commerce, announced that Harold Foley of Kentwood, La., would deliver a paper on the shipment of yellow pine to the army cantonments. This paper will be delivered at next week's meeting. Bernard T. Devine of Columbus, O., will speak on the activities of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce.

The Rev. William Connor, C. S. C., novice master at the Joseph Novitiate at Notre Dame, returned to school from a brief stay in Providence, R. I. During the absence of Fr. Connor, the Rev. Edward Flanagan, C. S. C., former prefect of discipline, was in charge of the novitiate.

The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Haney took place Wednesday morning from the Sacred Heart chapel. The Rev. J. Schier, C. S. C., pastor of the Notre Dame parish, officiated at the requiem mass at which the Holy Cross choir sang.

Prof. John Worden addressed the Notre Dame Architects club. Papers covering architectural topics were read by members Ott, Rieker and Kunz. After the business session, the members entertained Prof. Worden with a luncheon.

Under the direction of the Rev. John O'Hara, C. S. C., the Notre Dame Eucharistic union will commence a canvass at the resident halls for books and magazines which will be sent to the Notre Dame soldiers. The canvass will begin this week and will include Scrin, Brownson, Carly and Walt Whitman. Leo Dubois, member of the Oklahoma club, will canvass Sorin hall, the senior-junior hall, while George O'Brien and John Flanagan will have charge of Corby hall. Joseph Silk will canvass Walsh and Joseph McGrath in Brownson hall.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS ABOUT CAMP LIFE

W. O. Davies was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary club Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Davies described camp life at Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss. He praised Col. George W. Fryermuth for the interest which he has taken in the boys from South Bend. He keeps in personal touch with them and sees to it that they receive every possible care.

B. V. Constantino of Moscow, Russia, was a guest at the meeting. Mr. Constantino gave a short address in which he stated that he believed that Russia will be back on her feet again by mid-winter or early spring.

N. D. Seniors

Open Social

Season of '17-'18

Notre Dame seniors congregated in the Nicholson Inn last evening at 6:30 o'clock to try the lid off their 1917-18 social season. The lid came off with a bang. Act one consisted of an elaborate chicken dinner served to and consumed by the hopeful candidates for university degrees June next. No matter what else could be said about them the appetites of the seniors assembled certainly seemed well educated, and the chicken and accompaniments vanished with little resistance.

Victuals out of way act two was brought on. Ordinarily it would be classified under the head of entertainment. Specifically it might be termed Senioritis. John A. Lemmer, who received the most votes when the class met to elect a president a few weeks ago, was toastmaster. John has a record as a debater but he left his decorum outside the inn. "Chuck" Williams entertained his fellow classmates by a cute little ditty in prose entitled "Reminiscences."

Prof. H. E. McCausland was imported from the Notre Dame faculty for a series of slight-of-hand tricks that could have lived up many a classroom. "Pinky Pete" Edmondson, editor of the 1918 issue, felt some votes coming over him, and he got up and recited it. A hand clap of thunder followed. Knute K. Rockne, back from West Point, turned orator after some of the seniors had exercised their lungs.

The real serious talk of the evening was given by Frank E. Hering, long a popular orator with the Notre Dame collection. Mr. Hering touched a popular chord, and in the vernacular of the campus, "got away big."

Much mention must be made of the trio that furnished the harmony during the evening's entertainment. "Pinky Pete" Edmondson, "Pete", alias "Whispering" Noonan, and "Milky" Reuss rose to great heights and sunk to great depths with amazing rapidity. They were encored time and again.

Committeemen F. L. Cullman, A. A. Larrasola, and E. M. McLaughlin may be consulted for further details.

Hoover to Attack Bread Price Next

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—An attempt to reduce bread prices will be the next move of the food administration in assuming control of the principal food commodities. At the request of Administrator Hoover, Pres't Wilson will issue within a few days an order directing that every baker in the country be required to do business under federal license.

Rules and regulations governing the baking industry already have been drawn up by the food administration and will be put into operation as soon as the executive order is out. They will provide a standard sized loaf of probably two sizes and standardization of the bread content. A bread formula has been selected and bakers will be permitted to use no other.

The new war bread will contain a reduced amount of fats, as both the lard and milk content will be cut down considerably. It probably will be produced in 20 ounce and 10 ounce loaves. No prices will be fixed outright but the regulations will prescribe that only reasonable prices may be charged. Consumers' committees have reported to the administration that in most places loaves of this size can be sold at 10 and 5 cents respectively.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores in the complexion clear. In cold weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, and the complexion suffers. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized Wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with paste, here's a never-failing formula: One ounce powdered salicylic dissolved in one-half pint water. Rub the face and neck in daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results. Adv.

Backache of Women

How this Woman Suffered and Was Relieved.

Fort Fairfield, Maine.—"For many months I suffered from backache caused by female troubles so I was unable to do my house work. I took treatments for it but received no help whatever. Then some of my friends asked why I did not try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and my backache soon disappeared and I felt like a different woman, and now have a healthy little baby girl and do all my house work. I will always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. ALTON D. OAKES, Fort Fairfield, Maine.
